

Dear

I am reaching out with a very warm hello from Shallion Support, a new social enterprise founded in January this year. We're currently a limited company by shares, on the road to becoming a Community Interest Company because we are driven by a strong sense of purpose and a desire to help those living with chronic illness.

As a Master's student currently undertaking a research internship with Shallion Limited, I bring extensive experience in healthcare from my professional journey in Canada. This unique opportunity allows me to explore and understand diverse approaches to health system supports, broadening my perspective significantly.

My choice to collaborate with Shallion is deeply personal, influenced by witnessing the struggles of my own family members who live with chronic illness. This experience has motivated me to support initiatives that meaningfully improve quality of life through tailored care.

Shallion's goal is simple: to explore every possible way to help those with chronic illness—with more support and connection!

We work on a discretionary sliding scale to keep our service accessible: We charge £30.00 an hour for those who can afford it. We offer reduced rates based on personal circumstances. And we provide free support to people on ADP, PIP, or Limited Work Capacity under Universal Credit only.

If you feel any of your patients could benefit from the support Shallion offers, we would greatly appreciate your referrals or signposting them to our services.

I look forward to hearing from you!

Warmest wishes,

Priyanka Naga

Research Intern at Shallion Support

hello@shallion.co.uk

www.shallion.co.uk